Hunter's Lullaby

A Tribute Song

Intro - piano, acoustic guitar

Verse 1

I remember coming home from work and seeing your sweet face,
A German Shepherd cross, full of charm and grace.
You'd meet me at the door, with your tail wagging bright,
A happy, expressive smile, filling my world with light.
Your brown eyes held such a deep and tender love,
A loyal heart sent from the heavens above.
Every greeting a joy, a comfort so true,
My darling Hunter, I cherished you.

Chorus

Oh, Hunter, my sweet Hunter, ten years by my side,
Your spirit runs free, with nothing to hide.
In every soft whisper, your love still remains,
Through sunshine and laughter, and comforting rains.

Verse 2

Our morning walks in the park, a treasured routine,
You'd hunt for the gophers, a diligent, keen scene.
With focused brown eyes, you'd search through the grass,
Bringing laughter and joy, as moments would pass.
Your playful spirit, a comfort so deep,
Secrets and memories, my heart will always keep.
In those quiet moments, our bond grew so strong,
Right where we belonged.

Chorus

Oh, Hunter, my sweet Hunter, ten years by my side,
Your spirit runs free, with nothing to hide.

Hunter's Lullaby (continued)

In every soft whisper, your love still remains,
Through sunshine and laughter, and comforting rains.

Bridge

I whisper your name, my Hunter Bunter, my dear,
You were truly my heart, banishing all fear.
A love so profound, a bond ever true,
A part of my soul, forever is you.

Instrumental - soft strings, piano

Final Chorus

Oh, Hunter, my sweet Hunter, ten years by my side,
Your spirit runs free, with nothing to hide.
In every soft whisper, your love still remains,
Through sunshine and laughter, and comforting rains.

Outro

Now you're running through fields, chasing rabbits with glee,
Flushing birds from the tall grass, wild and free.
Resting peacefully, beneath skies so wide,
My beautiful Hunter, forever my guide.

Outro - piano fade
