Max Man's Snuggle Sunset

A Tribute Song

Intro - acoustic guitar

Verse 1

I remember when you first arrived, a spirit strong and true
My bodyguard, my protector, there was nothing you wouldn't do
A pit bull mix with a gentle heart, you feared no earthly thing
Seventy-five pounds of pure, pure love, a joy you used to bring

Chorus

Oh, Max man, my good old friend, eight precious years we had
Every memory a treasure, never truly bad
You filled my life with so much light, a love so pure and deep
In every quiet moment now, your presence I still keep

Verse 2

When the evening sun began to fade, a golden, sleepy glow
You loved to snuggle on the sofa, putting on a show
My giant lap dog, warm and close, you'd settle by my side
With quiet comfort and gentle snores, nowhere left to hide

Chorus

Oh, Max man, my good old friend, eight precious years we had
Every memory a treasure, never truly bad
You filled my life with so much light, a love so pure and deep
In every quiet moment now, your presence I still keep

Verse 3

You walked beside me every day, a shadow at my heel
No matter what the world would throw, your loyal love I'd feel
A steady gaze, a wagging tail, a comfort in my soul

Max Man's Snuggle Sunset (continued)

You made our house a brighter place, you always made me whole

Bridge

"Be free now," was our final plea, as tears began to fall
Letting you go, the hardest choice, giving our love our all
A silent promise whispered soft, for comfort in the pain
Knowing you're safe and soaring high, beyond the sun and rain

Instrumental - harmonica, acoustic guitar

Final Chorus

Oh, Max man, my good old friend, eight precious years we had
Every memory a treasure, never truly bad
You filled my life with so much light, a love so pure and deep
In every quiet moment now, your presence I still keep

Outro

Now you're running pain-free, Max, with loved ones by your side
With Chika, Wally, Newman, Kita, and Amber, nowhere left to hide
Across the endless, sunlit fields, your spirit flies so high
Sleeping peacefully, my sweet boy, beneath the open sky

Outro - guitar fade

Forever in our hearts
