Minx, Our Guiding Light

A Tribute Song

Intro - piano, strings

Verse 1

A British bulldog, strong and true,
With gentle paws, a healing touch too.
For aged souls, a comfort sent,
Your loving spirit, heaven-lent.
Your happy smile, a cheeky grin,
A joyful spirit deep within.
Our first memory, clear and bright,
Chasing all our blues with pure delight.

Chorus

Oh Minx, our dear Minx, so bright,
You came to us, a guiding light.
For two short years, you graced our home,
Now your sweet spirit freely roams.
Oh Minx, you rescued us, you see,
With endless, wild sincerity.

Verse 2

Coming home, the day was done,
Your happy smile, like a rising sun.
Obsessing fiercely with your ball,
You'd answer every single call.
You'd try to bite at Bonnie's tail,
Your playful spirit would prevail.
With Chief and Cruz, you'd rough and tumble,
Never once would your sweet joy crumble.

Chorus

Minx, Our Guiding Light (continued)

Oh Minx, our dear Minx, so bright,
You came to us, a guiding light.
For two short years, you graced our home,
Now your sweet spirit freely roams.
Oh Minx, you rescued us, you see,
With endless, wild sincerity.

Bridge

My baby girl, I love you so,
More than these simple words can show.
We rescued you, you rescued us,
A bond built on eternal trust.
A final whisper, soft and low,
A love that will forever grow.

Instrumental - strings, brass

Final Chorus

Oh Minx, our dear Minx, so bright,
You came to us, a guiding light.
For two short years, you graced our home,
Now your sweet spirit freely roams.
Oh Minx, you rescued us, you see,
With endless, wild sincerity.

Outro

Now running free with all the kids,
No shortness of breath, no pain forbids.
Chasing sticks, your ball in sight,
Bathed in an eternal, golden light.

Outro - cello fade
