Anita's Sunbeam Run

A Tribute Song

Intro - grand piano, strings

Verse 1

In the yard, a furry flash, a coat of darkest night,
Just a tiny patch of white upon her chest, a precious sight.
Digging holes with Zach, a joyous, playful sight
Then "monkey in the middle" on Vineyard Street we'd play
Your click-clack nails upon the floor, a sound that brightened every day
A stealthy paw, a stolen bite, when no one seemed to see
Or jumping in the aqueduct, chasing ducks so free
Swimming with Jack in summer's heat, chasing rabbits on our way
You solved a puzzle in a minute, then turned the sprinklers on to spray

Chorus

Oh, Anita, my sweet girl, for fifteen years so true
A love so deep, a bond so strong, in everything you do
You filled our lives with laughter, a light that shone so bright
Forever in our memories, our beautiful, guiding light

Verse 2

The greatest joy, your greeting, at the door or front yard gate
A happy wagging tail you'd show, sealing our loving fate
Your cute, loud, sassy bark, a welcome we held dear
Our walks were the best, chasing away all fear
Your sassy walk made us all smile, a comical display
And kitchen meetings, full of treats, at the close of every day
You brought such fun and warmth to us, in every little thing
The joy and solace that you gave, a melody you'd sing

Chorus

Oh, Anita, my sweet girl, for fifteen years so true

A love so deep, a bond so strong, in everything you do
You filled our lives with laughter, a light that shone so bright
Forever in our memories, our beautiful, guiding light

Bridge

Thank you, pretty momma girl, for all the fun and glee
The walks and laughter that you brought, you meant the world to me
You'll always have a special place, deep within my heart
Go run and chase the rabbits now, a brand new happy start
You were a chapter, meaningful, a joy I'll hold so near
I miss you, my pretty girl, I'll find you someday, dear

Instrumental - strings, oboe

Final Chorus

Oh, Anita, my sweet girl, for fifteen years so true
A love so deep, a bond so strong, in everything you do
You filled our lives with laughter, a light that shone so bright
Forever in our memories, our beautiful, guiding light

Outro

Now running free in tall egress, with Enchi and with Molly
Sunbathing in the endless sunbeam, so peaceful and so jolly

Outro - strings fade

Forever in our hearts
